City dwellers socked for higher taxes

BY DENA BISNETTE

Now that all local millage rates have been set, Hancock County residents may compare taxes and decide where they have to pay the most.

According to Hancock County Tax Assessor and Collector Edward Murtagh, most property owners must pay taxes to two or three different entities.

Broken down by millage, Bay St. Louis residents inside the city school district are taxed 34.4 mills by the county, 24.2 by the Bay St. Louis Municipal Separate School District and 21 mills by the city, a total of 79.6 mills.

However, county residents who live in the Bay St. Louis Municipal Separate School District will pay taxes only to the county and the school district at a total of 58.6 mills.

Residents of Waveland who live in the county school district are taxed 34.4 mills by the county, 20.9 mills by the school district and 13.5 mills by the city. Their total tax is 68.8 mills. Waveland residents of the city school district have the same county and city taxes, but their school taxes are 24.2 mills. Their taxes total 72.1 mills.

Residents of Hancock County who live in the Pleasure School District, mostly the Leetown area, are taxed 34.4 mills by the county and 33.75 mills by the school district for a total of 68.15 mills.

On the other hand, county residents in the Hancock County School District are taxed the same 34.4 mills by the county, but have to pay only 20.9 mills to the school district. Their taxes total 55.32 mills.

Additional taxes are added for some areas by fire protection districts.

The millage rate for the Kiln Fire District is 34.4 for the county, 20.9 for the county school district and .91 for the fire district, a total of 56.24 mills.

In the Diamondhead Fire District, county millage and school district millage are the same but the fire district millage is 1.54 mills. The total is 56.87 mills.

The East Hancock Fire District is split because part of it is in the Bay St. Louis School District and part is in the county school district.

In the city school district, the tax is 59.02 mills, broken into 34.4 for the county, 24.2 for the school district and .41 for the fire district.

Translated into dollars by County Appraiser Lee Bennett, the taxes can be compared according to assessed valuation of homes.

A property owner with a home assessed at $25,000, after Homestead Exemption credits are deleted, are about $54 if the homeowner pays only county and county school district taxes.

The total tax is about $108 for a $50,000 home, $237 for a $75,000 home and $366 for a $100,000 home.

The owner of the same $25,000 home who pays county taxes and city school district taxes pays about $57.

The total tax is about $114 for a $50,000 home, $322 for a $75,000 home and $529 for a $100,000 home.

If that property owner with the $25,000 house lives where he pays Bay St. Louis City taxes as well as school taxes and county taxes, pays about $148.

The total tax is about $297 for a $50,000 home, $595 for a $75,000 home and $894 for a $100,000 home.

Residents speak against Ruella Street closing

By BRENDA HEATHCOCK

The recent closing of a portion of Ruella Street has generated several protests from Bay St. Louis residents.

"That street was used by many senior citizen residents in the area to get to shopping malls on Dunbar Avenue and US-90," said spokesman Leontine C. DeRocha.

"Now we either have to get on the highway or go down Ulman Avenue by the junior high school," she said.

DeRocha also said due to debris piled against the fence constructed across the road, it is now a fire hazard.

The Bay city council voted unanimously in August to close the

According to De Rocha, the seminary has always wanted the road closed and attempts to have it closed with two previous administrations had failed.

De Rocha claimed that Hancock County Supervisors James Travirca and Sam Perniciaro maintained the road regularly before the closing.

She also said that Frankiewicz had told her protests were useless, because the road was closed and the matter settled.

"I am not a rabble rouser but when you tell me something is impossible, that's when I know there is a way to do it," she said.

"In my opinion the street is not worth the amount of public funds it would take to keep it safe." —Frankiewicz unpaved section of the street, which goes through Seminary property, following a request from Seminary officials.

Defending the council's decision, Mayor Victor Frankiewicz said Friday, that the road was a safety hazard and was too expensive to maintain.

"In my opinion the street is not worth the amount of public funds it would take to keep it safe," he added.

Frankiewicz said following any heavy rainstorm, it would take four or five days to repair the road which washes out easily.

"The city does not have adequate funds to keep up the city's streets that are heavily travelled, much less the ones with a low traffic count," he said.

"Although it is an inconvenience for those who used the road to go around, I would rather them be inconvenienced than be killed on that street," Frankiewicz said.

De Rocha says it would be different if it were not a dedicated street, but it is not right that the seminary be allowed to block off the street.

"The street was there before the seminary was," she said.

Highway supervisor to meet with county officials

By BRENDA HEATHCOCK

John Moody, maintenance superintendent for the state highway department, plans to meet with the Hancock County Board of Supervisors Monday.

Moody said Friday he intends to discuss with the supervisors a plan to coordinate a cleanup project of the natural drainage system in the county to prevent flooding along US-90 as was recorded last week.

"The state is restricted to cleaning the right of ways but even if we get all our ditches cleaned, where is the water going then?" Moody questioned.

"I'm not coming in and saying the county needs to do this and the city needs to do that, I call that just passing the buck," he said.

"We must coordinate our efforts to do everything in our power to keep this from happening again," he said.

Moody also said the highway department planned to enlarge a drainage culvert in November under Lower Bay Road to alleviate some of the flooding problems.

Supervisors to consider cleaning Bayou Phillips

BY DENA BISNETTE

The Hancock County Board of Supervisors will be asked Monday to consider cleaning out Bayou Phillips to improve drainage in the bayou's watershed.

County Engineer Larry Seal said he plans to make two recommendations to the board at its Monday meeting.

Both involve cleaning Bayou Phillips.

Seal inspected the area this week after heavy rains flooded several subdivisions that drain into the bayou.

Flooded areas that normally drain into the bayou included parts of Lakeshore, Springwood Park, Shoreline Park and BaySide Park. The flooding occurred after heavy rainfall last Monday.

"My recommendation to the board is, at the present time, to request that the Highway Department investigate the possibility of cleaning out Bayou Phillips from its junction with US-90 back to where the Bayou opens up," Seal said.

"They should also find out if it might be possible to do some channel work there."

Seal said his second recommendation will be that the board ask for similar assistance from the Federal Emergency Management Agency and the U.S. Army Corps of Engineers.

"It looks like some trees knocked down by the hurricane have partially obstructed the bayou," he explained.

"Generally, it's all just grown up to where the flow of water is obstructed."

The engineer said that his inspection tour had included some of the bridges over the bayou and some of them are obstructed.

Some of the obstructed areas are the responsibility of the highway department. Others, like a bridge on Lakeshore Road, are maintained by the county.

He said enlarging and clearing out the bayou may make drainage more efficient.

"We have a very large problem. There is no doubt about it. It's a large, large drainage area with more than 1,000 acres," he said.

Isles group to select directors

The Henderson Point-Pass Christian Isles Civic Association has changed the location of its Oct. 12 general membership meeting.

The usual location, Gulf Shore Baptist Assembly Auditorium, was severely damaged by Hurricane Elena and is not available, according to Association President James M. McQueen Jr. The meeting will instead be at Mallini's Point Lounge next to Annie's Restaurant and will begin at 1:30 p.m.

A new board of directors for the association will be selected from those nominated from the floor. The board will then select and appoint officers.

In addition, the agenda will include discussion of water and sewerage disposal plans for Henderson Point and Pass Christian Isles.

If time permits, Neighborhood Watch revitalization, new membership recruitment and covenant enforcement will also be discussed.

Other business at the membership meeting is expected to include an appeal from Gerald Roux, chairman of the association's Committee Against Annexation, for funds to pay the costs of legal and special consultants.

Henderson Point and Pass Christian Isles were recently dropped from the area being proposed for annexation by the city of Pass Christian upon recommendation of Mayor J.W. Erwin.

According to Roux, the cost of opposing annexation was about $10,346. Past fund drives have raised $6,945 through contributions from 52 percent of the association members.

Roux said $3,401 remains to be raised and urges the other 42 percent of the association to contribute.

He plans to recognize those who have already contributed.

Two Lakeshore residents arrested for armed robbery

By BRENDA HEATHCOCK

Two Lakeshore residents were charged with armed robbery Friday following their arrest by Hancock County law enforcement officials.

Jess Bryon Lane Jr., 38, and Beverly Ann Snell, 30, both of General Delivery, Lakeshore, were arrested approximately 20 minutes after an armed robbery at the Paddle Wheel Restaurant, said Hancock County Investigator Glenn Strong.

According to Strong, the Hancock County Sheriff's Office received a report of an armed robbery at 5:50 a.m.

Lane and Snell were arrested at 6:07 a.m. in the Paddle Wheel parking lot by Hancock County Sheriff's Deputies Dennis Tartavouille, Jim Odom and Russell Watts. They were assisted by Waveland Police Officers Brett Ladner and J. F.

Nowell, he added.

"The incident started with a jokingly made bet over a dog and evolved to an armed robbery," Strong said.

Weapons used during the alleged armed robbery were a pocket knife and a .45 caliber automatic.

The suspects are being held at the Hancock County Jail on a $50,000 bond each, Strong said.

Supervisors.....

Seal said he believes more than the Bayou Phillips drainage problem was responsible for the flooding. He said he had heard rainfall totals of as much as nine inches in one day in some of the areas.

"I'm not sure the problem could ever be eliminated in exactly the same circumstances."

"Basically we're just in a low area that got a tremendous amount of rain in a short time."

The flood apparently exceeded 25-year statistical flood level used in the construction of bridges and roads in the county.

Bridges and roads are generally constructed to be above those levels, but flooding covered some of them. Seal said he saw water at levels flooding has never reached before.

RSVP DIRECTOR—Theresa James, Retired Senior Volunteer Program director, addresses members at the group's annual awards dinner. The event was held at the Waveland American Legion home. ## Alcohol-drug abuse update to feature national experts

The Second Annual Alcoholism and Drug Abuse Update Conference sponsored by the Committee on Alcoholism and Drug Abuse for Greater New Orleans and other agencies will be staged Thursday from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m. in the Education Building of Southern Baptist Hospital in New Orleans.

The conference is planned for local and state health departments, community health agencies, voluntary health organizations, colleges and universities, counselors and therapists, public health workers, educators, and professional substance abuse workers, according to Anthony R. Lentini, president of CADA.

Highlighting the conference will be experts such as Ronald Catanzaro, MD, chairman of the board of the Palm Beach Institute in West Palm Beach, Fla., an expert on cocaine addiction, and originator of the familization therapy approach.

He will address the group on "Cocaine—The Drug of Choice." Cocaine is presently available in great quantities throughout the country. In the Greater New Orleans area, according to Ashton Brisolaro of Waveland, executive director of CADA, cocaine has dropped significantly in price, placing the substance within the monetary reach of teenagers.

Conferees will get a first hand account of what is happening on the streets of the New Orleans area when Frank Minyard, MD, coroner of Orleans Parish and consultant on drugs to many programs, will discuss "Update on Street Drugs." Latest information on alcoholism will be presented by David Mee-Lee, MD, vice-president, Bowling Green Inns & Monarch Health Co.

In addition, an "Overview of Substance Abuse in Louisiana" will be presented by Vernon Ridgeway, assistant secretary, Department of Health and Human Resources, Office of Prevention and Recovery from Alcohol and Drug Abuse.

A Reaction Panel, with Dan Faulkner, director of Freedom Lodge, serving as moderator, will include Dr. Minyard, Dr. Catanzaro, Vernon Ridgeway, Tom Lief, PhD, director, Substance Abuse Program, Southern University in New Orleans; and Mrs. Sonya Dunn, coordinator SAPE, Louisiana Department of Education, New Orleans.

Brisolaro will discuss prevention. Don Newcombe, former Dodger pitching star who has attained national recognition for his talks on alcoholism, will appear through the courtesy of Recovery Centers of America which operates F. Edward Hebert Hospital in New Orleans.

The conference is being coordinated, according to Lentini, by Frederick W. Hering, EdD, director, Health University in Orlando, Fla., who will also serve as master of ceremonies.

Cosponsors include Recovery Centers of America—F. Edward Hebert; Bowling Green Inns & Monarch Health Corp.—Bowling Green Inn of St. Tammany Parish; Health World; Health Education Council of Greater New Orleans; Louisiana Public Health Association; Freedom Lodge; Counterpoint Center of New Orleans; SAPE—Louisiana Department of Education; Health University; Louisiana Office of Health Services and Environmental Quality; Louisiana Office of Prevention and Recovery from Alcohol and Drug Abuse; Tulane University Medical Center—School of Public Health & Tropical Medicine; New Freedom Institute; Family Recovery Center; and Southern University of New Orleans.

Lentini emphasized that registration, because of the size of the conference hall, will be limited to first-come, first served.

Cost for the conference is $10 which includes lunch. Individuals wishing to attend should contact CADA, at 524 H-E-L-P, or send registration fee to CADA, 3314 Conti Street, New Orleans, La. 70119.

Everyone pays for shoplifting

A special seminar on shoplifting is being planned by the Hancock County Chamber of Commerce and the County Extension Service.

The event will take place within the next month, and we are hoping there will be a large merchant and employee participation.

The chamber's directors discussed the workshop at their meeting last week and it was decided that there will be two sessions, one in the morning and the other in the evening.

Reasoning for two sessions is to give all employees an opportunity to attend.

We realize shoplifting is a serious problem in Hancock County and that it explodes during the Christmas Season.

Arrests for shoplifting are made quite frequently in the county throughout the year.

It is estimated that there are 175 million estimated incidences of shoplifting each year in the United States.

Merchants in order to defray the expenses with which shoplifting saddles them, will mark up merchandise in order to recover the losses.

It is estimated that every citizen of the United States pays an average of $150 a year to cover for the crime of shoplifting.

A family can purchase many things at $150 each a year if shoplifting were eliminated.

We realize shoplifting will never be eliminated, but it can be controlled when employees are properly trained.

We hear a lot of merchants complaining about shoplifting, and we hope they will urge their employees to attend the seminar when it is held.

Quotables by CUEVAS

Once again cool breezes are welcomed in the area, and everyone appears to be enjoying them.

The cool weather is needed for many still have major projects to complete since Hurricane Elena's visit on Labor Day.

We notice the amount of debris is getting smaller around Bay St. Louis, Waveland and in the county in recent days.

We know everyone will be happy when all of the debris is finally removed and the scars of Elena are gone.

We have had several residents make mention to us about the numerous street corners with obstructions for motorists.

Some of the street corners have trees and shrubs and other items which cause a motorist to have a hard time passing an intersection.

We hope all citizens with residences on corners of streets would review them for obstructions.

It could be a help to many drivers.

In Thursday's column we made a big goof on the subject of Diamondhead's Arts and Creative Show.

We should have stated the show would be held only on Saturday, Sept. 28.

We apologize for the error.

From Mississippi Economic Council

TIME FOR CLARITY IN THE STATE'S TAX SYSTEM

If you think you are confused about the state of property taxation in Mississippi, consider the plight of the State Tax Commission.

Now, it seems, the commission has issued four conflicting opinions on the matter of personal property taxation.

First, back in March, said the commission, "Personal property must be depreciated" for tax purposes.

In April came the commission's statement, "We are retracting" the ruling on depreciation.

In May the commission issued a third order. Depreciation, said the commission then, "is a matter for local discretion."

Now comes a fourth instruction, issued in August. The new order issued to assessors by a commission spokesman in a meeting of local assessors was, "Do not accept depreciation."

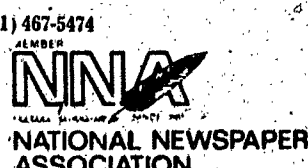

Little wonder the poor taxpayer is confused, and even a bit upset.

It's time the principles of clarity, simplicity, uniformity, and equity are applied to tax procedures in Mississippi.

Editor's Note: Judicial review—the power of courts to review legislative acts for constitutionality—is one of America's unique contributions to the science of government. The difficulty is that the Constitution does not, in so many words, give federal courts this power. In this article, Chief Justice Burger reviews the wide acceptance of judicial review in early America, and shows that it is not only consistent with, but required by, the idea of a written constitution which protects the liberties of the people.

By WARREN E. BURGER
US CHIEF JUSTICE

The noted English political thinker, Lord Bryce, is often quoted in his comment on the role of the Supreme Court:

"No feature of the government of the United States has awakened so much curiosity... caused so much discussion, received so much admiration, and been more frequently misunderstood, than the duties assigned to the Supreme Court and the functions which it discharges in guarding the Ark of the Constitution."

Lord Bryce, of course, was referring to the doctrine of judicial review in the interpretation of constitutional terms and principles, articulated formally in 1803 in 'Marbury v. Madison.'

It is helpful to an understanding of the issues surrounding the unique role of the judiciary in the American constitutional system to examine one particular case.

The setting in which 'Marbury v. Madison' was decided, with all its momentous consequences for our country, is important. That historic holding had its antecedents in our colonial experience and its taproots in the declarations of fundamental rights of Englishmen dating back to the Magna Carta.

It is often assumed that the doctrine of "judicial review" was the invention of Chief Justice John Marshall. It is true that Chief Justice Marshall first applied this keystone doctrine of our constitutional law in 'Marbury,' but Marshall did not originate the concept, and never claimed to have announced a novel doctrine.

He was well aware of the general acceptance of the idea that constitutional adjudication was inherent in the very nature of the separation of powers under our written Constitution.

In the very year of the Declaration of Independence, and a quarter of a century before Marshall became chief justice, the people of the town of Concord, Mass., held a town meeting and adopted a resolution that "a Constitution alterable by the Supreme Legislative is no security at all to the subject, against encroachment of the Governing Part on any or on all their rights and privileges."

Earlier, when the colony of Massachusetts Bay was under British colonial rule, the sturdy farm people of Berkshire County refused to let the colonial courts sit from 1775 to 1780 until the people of Massachusetts adopted a constitution with a bill of rights enforceable by judges.

The premise in these events, 25 years before 'Marbury,' was that by its very nature as an organic document defining and delegating powers to three separate coequal branches of government, a written constitution would be a limit on the acts of the legislature and executive, as well as on judicial power, so as to protect fundamental liberties.

Where else but in the judicial branch was the appropriate vehicle for providing that protection?

Long before 'Marbury,' American political leaders, including many of the most distinguished lawyers and judges, accepted as fundamental that a written constitution was a restraint on every part of the federal government.

John Marshall, in 1803, was doing little more than declaring what was widely accepted by so many of the best legal minds of his day.

As with so many great conceptions, the idea of judicial review of legislation now seems simple and inevitable in the perspective of history.

The people of the United States delegated certain powers to the national government and placed limits on those powers by specific and general reservations.

Once the states and the people declared and adopted certain guarantees relating to religious freedom, speech, searches, seizures, and arrests, would it be reasonable to think that Congress and the executive could alter those rights?

The explicit procedures carefully providing for constitutional amendments negate the idea that a written constitution could be altered by legislative or executive action.

The language of Article III vesting judicial power "in one Supreme Court" in "all Cases, in Law and Equity, arising under this Constitution, the Laws of the United States, and Treaties..." would be sterile indeed if the Supreme Court could not exercise that judicial power by deciding cases involving conflicts between the Constitution, federal laws, and treaties on the one hand, and acts of Congress, the executive or states on the other.

Given the extraordinary power that judicial review vests in the judiciary, the question may be raised: Who will watch the watchmen? It is clear that when Congress disagrees with the judicial interpretation of a statute, Congress can enact a new statute that supersedes the judicial interpretation.

Congress has done this many times in our history. Similarly, Congress and the state legislatures have overridden Supreme Court opinions, through constitutional amendment.

When appointments are made to the Supreme Court, it is surely not unnatural that presidents try to appoint, subject to Senate confirmation, justices they hope will interpret the Constitution "properly."

It is true that in the tenure of office of all federal judges, so essential to their independence, there is risk that power can be abused. The Framers were aware of those risks, but the risks were unavoidable, since "some men must decide."

Chief Justice Harlan Fiske Stone reminded all federal judges that "the only check upon our own exercise of power is our own sense of self-restraint."

Dogwood Road residents happy with drainage problem solution

Editor
Sea Coast Echo
Bay St. Louis

Dear Sir:

All of the residents of Dogwood Road wish to commend Mayor Victor Frankiewicz, Councilman Lisa Coward and City Clerk Eddie Farve for their tireless efforts in resolving our drainage problem.

These competent city officials with the legal assistance of city attorney Robert Genin were able to solve in one month's time a nagging problem which kept our street flooded for almost two years.

These officials were able to accomplish this task without any additional legal costs to our city. They also stopped a dangerous precedent from being set: that any citizen who had a natural drain flowing through their property could cover it up at any time and force the city to pay them for use of the ditch.

We are very thankful that our community has such quality leadership which addresses problems with honesty and vigor for the benefit of all of our citizens.

Sincerely,
Michael G. Gemelli

Visiting accident victim distressed by police handling of the incident

September 13, 1985
The Sea Coast Echo
Bay St. Louis

Dear Editor:

Although it has been only a few short weeks since a new mayor has taken office and appointed the present chief of police, I feel this matter should be brought to someone's attention, if only to the citizens of Bay St. Louis.

On the afternoon of August 21, I was a passenger in my mother's car which was involved in an accident on Highway 90 in front of Scaffidi's Wheel Inn Restaurant.

As a result of this accident, my mother has a shattered knee cap and I received facial lacerations with permanent scarring.

Fortunately, my two-year-old daughter was wearing her seatbelt and was unharmed.

The people who stopped to assist and those from the restaurant were kind, concerned and helpful. However, the Bay St. Louis Police Department was not.

The patrolman who investigated the accident is ignorant of traffic laws in the State of Mississippi. He felt that the driver of the other vehicle who pulled out across Highway 90 in front of us was not in violation of these laws. Therefore, he failed to write a citation to this driver, nor has one been issued since.

If the chief of police is unable to hire someone who is knowledgeable in traffic laws, the least he could do is hire someone who can spell. Words like occurred, lane and Houma, Louisiana (which he spelled occurred, lan and Homa) are all third grade level words misspelled on the police report.

If the treatment of this accident is indicative of the patrolmen of the Bay St. Louis Police Department, then I have nothing but sympathy for the citizens of your city.

There is simply no excuse for incompetence.

Sincerely
Mary Helen Piazza Neal
Houma, La.

New child support laws apparently unenforceable

To the Editor
Sea Coast Echo
Bay St. Louis

Dear Sir,

Could you tell me what happened to the new child support laws that went into effect July 1, 1985 which were going to help the mothers and children collect what is owed to them?

Can the judges tell me what happened to putting these absent parents in jail for non-support and the attorney's that say if we can get them in court, they will have to pay up in full?

The Mississippi Attorney General's Office has a toll-free hotline but didn't make any effort to call the Attorney General's Office in Texas to assist in a non child support case.

The White House in Washington, D.C. said I have a problem that they couldn't help, for me to get in touch with my congressman, Trent Lott.

Trent Lott's office also recognized that I have a problem but said there is nothing they can do.

I have a $2,650 judgement that the Welfare Department informed me is just a piece of paper.

I was advised to go through legal channels and I did. The court gave me the judgement July 10, 1985. By the new laws after July 1, 1985, back child support was supposed to be collected.

I want the people of Hancock County to know it's nothing but a big joke and not to get their hopes up on collecting very needed child support that is due the mothers or children.

As the people can see I've been in touch with anybody and everybody, and I have been unable to collect a dime.

To the Federal Government who pushed these so called new laws: Where are y'all at?

What happened to taking away the federal funds? Come on, Mr. Congressman, check into the new laws y'all passed.

To the Governor of Mississippi, what happened to your requirements to any court with the powers to enforce these new child support laws?

I would like to know what alternatives the State Welfare Department has to offer.

I have the address and telephone number of the absent parent who refused to pay child support since March, 1983.

What makes me so mad is that all my ex-husband has to pay is $100 a month for two teenage boys.

Now tell me if you can raise two teenage boys on that a month?

My ex-husband makes around $10,000 a month.

I'm tired of fighting and seeing my boys coming out on the losing end.

Thank you,
Diane Seal
Waveland, Miss.

ETV Brief

HUNTER EDUCATION

A new program designed to educate Mississippi hunters about legalities and safety practices of their sport will be examined on "Farmweek" at 7:30 p.m., Monday, Oct. 7, on Mississippi ETV.

Trespassing and roadside hunting are two practices that the program is trying to combat. Though the majority of the state's hunters are responsible sportsmen, many may be unaware of a new law prohibiting trespassing on unposted property. The SMART (Sportsmen of Mississippi Acting Responsibly Together) program explains this and other laws affecting hunters.

County Agent's Notes

By Lee Taylor

Planting of winter pasture is soon upon us. Your entire winter grazing program will be affected by what you do in September. If you expect 160-180 days of grazing, you should plant on a prepared seed bed.

Overseeded rye grass on a permanent pasture usually does not produce adequate grazing until January. If you had problem with "Blast" disease last year, then you should delay rye grass planting until late September.

As most know ryegrass and wheat are our mainstays in winter grazing situations. You should plant 30-40 pounds of ryegrass, and 60-90 pounds of wheat per acre if planting together.

The wheat will give quicker grazing while the ryegrass comes on later in the season. I would recommend using at least 400 pounds of 13-13-13 at planting for ryegrass and wheat or in a combination.

If the rain ever lets up, the Fall would be an excellent time to apply lime. Remember lime is one of the cheapest investments you can make fertility wise.

ANIMAL HEALTH

Prior to entering the Winter season, why not immunize your herd to prevent diseases. Vaccinate your calves against respiratory disease, such as IBR, PI, and BVD. Disease to be concerned with in cattle are black leg, malignant edema, Leptospirosis and Brucellosis.

Remember to vaccinate all heifer calves for Brucellosis.

Fall is also an excellent time to review your worming program. Generally, cattle should be wormed twice after the last killing frost with treatments 21 days apart.

BEEF MARKETING

Fall and Spring are usually our best marketing times for cattle. However, prices have been up and down, and mostly down. Review your sales option and stay aware of market prices. Try to hold your cattle until the market peaks. Some stockyards are holding board sales in an attempt to group uniform lots of feeder calves.

State forestry asks Canadian lumber sanction

Mississippi's Congressional delegates and the Congress of the United States have been requested by Mississippi Forestry Association and the Southern Legislative Conference to take actions to restrict Canadian forest products imports.

Bob Izlar, MFA executive vice president, said the resolution was adopted by MFA at a recent board meeting in response to a policy position taken by the Southern Legislative Conference.

MFA has also worked with the SLC, Izlar said, in preparing a conference resolution urging Congress to proceed swiftly in its consideration of the various legislative proposals that would put Canadian raw material costs on an equal economic footing with the U.S. if Canadian lumber is to be imported into the country.

Bay holds Vancleave to yardage deficit

BY DENA BISNETTE

The Bay St. Louis High School Tigers shut out Vancleave 7-0 Friday night in a defensive struggle in which they held their opponents to a 13-yard game deficit.

The Vancleave contest was Bay High's second of the season in which the Tiger defense held their opponents to negative yardage.

Two weeks ago, the Tigers held the Pass Christian Pirates to a net of minus two yards.

Tiger Head Coach Cleveland

Williams praised the Bay High defense for its performance against Vancleave Friday.

"The only way they gained on us was passing. They lost 19 yards running," he said.

"Our defense really shined this week."

"It was a good defensive game but we kind of broke down on offense. Neither team could get going on offense, but Vancleave had a very good defense," said Assistant Coach Gary Griffin.

"The times that they tried to stop us they couldn't do it, but there were a couple of times when we really couldn't get it past the 50," he added.

Despite the strong Bulldog defense, Bay High gained a total of 227 yards Friday night.

Passing accounted for 75 yards. The Tigers gained 152 on the ground game; mostly through the efforts of running backs Willie Lewis and Louis Burton.

The victory over Vancleave leaves Bay High one game away from a conference and district title. The Tigers' remaining conference game will be next week against East Central.

"That's going to be a very important game and it will be tough like this one," Williams said.

"After we get through with the conference games, we'll have to play the big schools, like Long Beach, Hancock North Central and St. Stanislaus," added Assistant Coach G.L. McRaney.

In Friday night action, the Tigers battled Vancleave in a hard-hitting but scoreless first half.

The Tigers were unable to get through the Vancleave line to score until there were only 35 seconds left in the third quarter.

The Tigers began a drive on a series of running plays that took them to a first and goal on the Bulldog nine yard line.

Quarterback Quentin Bell turned the ball over to running back Willie Lewis, who ran it straight up the middle for the only Tiger touchdown of the night.

Stace McRaney kicked the PAT and the score stood at 7-0 the rest of the way.

The Tigers lost a fourth quarter chance to add three more points when a field goal attempt from about the 30 yard line failed.

Williams named defensive tackle Greg Necaise as outstanding player for the game.

Necaise was credited with several crucial quarterback sacks in addition to 14 tackles.

Also named for his defensive play was Stace McRaney.

"This was his best ballgame defensively," Williams said. "He assisted on a lot of tackles."

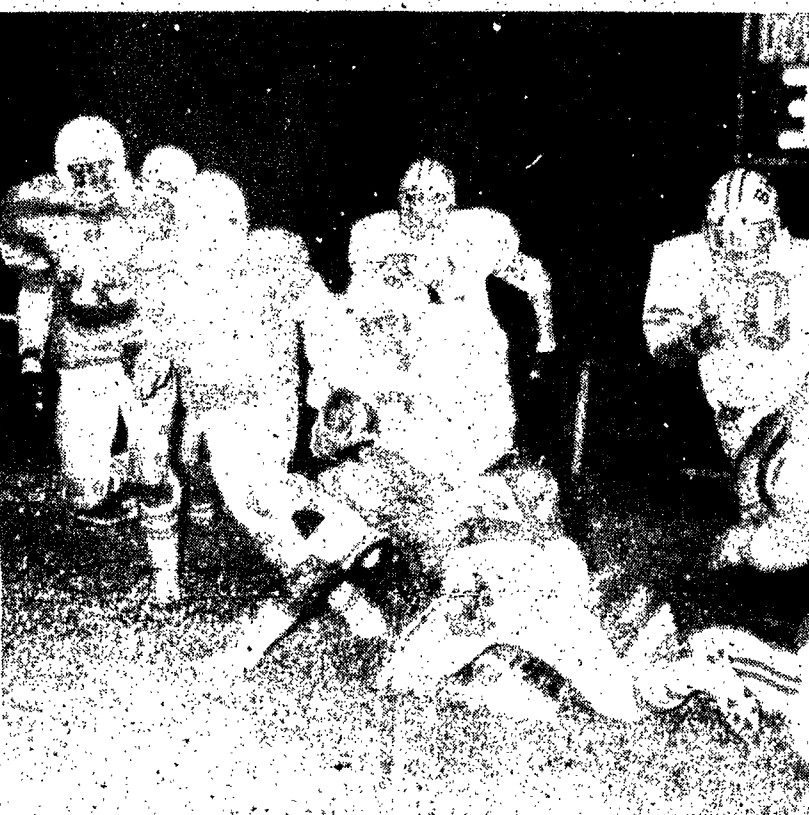

Next week's game against East Central will be at Tiger Stadium.

USM slates symposium on hunger

Hunger in Mississippi will be the topic of a symposium next month at the University of Southern Mississippi.

The symposium and USM participation in a United Nations teleconference on world hunger, all set for Wednesday, Oct. 16, are being sponsored by the university in conjunction with USM's 75th anniversary celebration.

"While there are no easy solutions to hunger, the symposium and teleconference discussions will be educational and serve as catalysts to begin examining what is taking place on our homefront and around the world concerning hunger," said Dr. Susan Siltanen, coordinator of the symposium and USM's teleconference participation.

As well as featuring speakers from around the state, the symposium will showcase USM faculty and student with expertise on subjects relating to hunger. Faculty and students from the College of Liberal Arts and the Schools of Nursing, Home Economics and Social Work will be included.

"The symposium is unique in that it is an inter-disciplinary approach to the issue of hunger in Mississippi," Siltanen added. "USM is taking the lead in beginning dialogue on the subject."

USM will be among universities and colleges across the country that are participating in the second annual UN Food and Agricultural Organizations World Food Day Teleconference. More than 125 schools participated last year in the first World Food Day observance.

Presenting the keynote address for the symposium will be Dr. Aaron Shirley, project director and pediatrician at the Jackson-Hinds Comprehensive Health Center. He participated in a highly publicized Harvard University hunger study project and wrote an official report on hunger in Mississippi.

Other panelists who will appear at the symposium include Agnes Hinton, director of nutrition for the state Board of Health; Michael Raff, director of the Department of Human Development, Governor's Office of Federal-State Programs; and Fenton DeWeese, assistant to the director of the Department of Human Development, Governor's Office of Federal-State programs.

Joyce Dortsch, executive director of the Mississippi Chapter, National Association of Social Workers; Kaye Bender, R.N., public health nurse advisor, State Department of Health; and Deborah Bolian, R.N., instructor in the School of Nursing at Mississippi College; also will appear on panels.

Participating USM faculty experts include Dr. Margaret McCarthy, chair of the Department of Institutional Administration in the School of Home Economics; Dr. Marjorie Keller, associate professor in the School of Nursing; Joni Esser, associate professor in the Graduate School of Social Work; and Donna Matthews, director of the Inquiry and Advocacy debate program in the Department of Speech Communication.

Students include Daryl Magee, R.N., a graduate student in community health and part-time faculty member in the School of Nursing; and student debaters Angela Callista, Lee Gipson, Raju Haque, Billy Neman, Sheila Perkins and David Tisdale.

McCarthy, Keller, Esser and Matthews will lead panel discussions. McCarthy will lead a session on the topic, "Feeding Many With Little: The Challenge of Hunger;" Esser, "Hunger and Poverty in Mississippi: A Traditional Area of Social Work Practice;" Keller, "Resolving Hunger as a Community Health Problem;" and Matthews.

Rocks.....

Long Beach took over on their 41 and at this point the Bearcats began to substitute freely. The Rockchaw defense dug in and did not allow another first down, forcing Darren Dean to punt down to the SSC 15-yard line.

On first down, Dempsey pitched out to tailback YaSin Shabazz who picked up 14 yards on a sweep to the SSC 29-yard line.

Dempsey then followed with a keep around left end and gained 13 more yards. But as Dempsey dove over a Long Beach tackler, he fumbled the ball and Long Beach recovered another Rockchaw miscue at the SSC 41-yard line.

From this point the Bearcats were content to run out the clock with QB keepers and gives to the fullback.

When the final horn sounded, Long Beach had come away with an impressive 22-0 victory against St. Stanislaus.

Next Friday night the Rockchaws, now 2-1 on the season, face the high-powered offense of Hancock North Central at Kiln. Kickoff is set for 7:30 p.m.

YOUR HEALTH

Someone remarked the other day that he didn't know Chiropractic care could do anything for headaches. Similar remarks may be heard from time to time concerning other conditions of the body. Even patients, upon recovery from one ailment through Chiropractic, are sometimes unaware that adjustments also can correct the cause of Nerve Interference which creates other illnesses and conditions! The point is that Chiropractic care is not really limited to correcting backaches as most people think, but is an all around health service. Doctors of Chiropractic realize there are conditions necessitating surgery and will not hesitate to recommend these services when they deem it necessary. In fact, your doctor of Chiropractic would not accept your case if he didn't feel it would be the best all around approach to your problem.

Pirates fall to strong Hawk offense

By BRENDA HEATHCOCK
Bringing their season record to two wins and two losses, the Hancock North Central Hawks soundly defeated the Pass Christian Pirates Friday night on the Pirates home field.

The Hawks played the way they are supposed to play, Coach Irvin Favre said following the game.

Pirate Coach Alton Wright said his team was just outmatched.

The Hawks took an immediate lead scoring in four plays after the Pirates fumbled the ball one play after the kickoff.

Scot Curet recovered for the Hawks. Quarterback Brett Favre gained seven yards on a keeper play and Stanley Jourdan carried three consecutive times to get the score.

The PAT attempt was no good. Taking possession after a Pirate punt, the Hawks began a drive that netted them three first downs and another touchdown by Jourdan.

Key runs by Charles Burton and Drew Malley put the ball on the six to set up Jourdan's touchdown run. Malley made the extra point, bringing the score to 13-0.

The Pirates took the kick-off and drove to the Hawk 21 yard line but stalled and had to turn the ball over to North Central on downs.

The Hawks failed to take advantage of the fumble recovery by fumbling the ball away on third down.

The Pirates began their first scoring drive of the game from their own 30-yard line.

On third down, Pirate Winston Ausmer pitched the ball to Shinall Conway who carried 60 yards for a touchdown.

The extra point was blocked by Hawk Brian Necaise.

The Hawks struck back quickly when Charles Burton broke through on third down and scampered 65 yards into the end zone for a TD.

Hawk Eric Rester recovered another Pirate fumble following the kickoff.

Lightning struck again following the fumble recovery when Favre connected with John Tule on a 56-yard touchdown bomb.

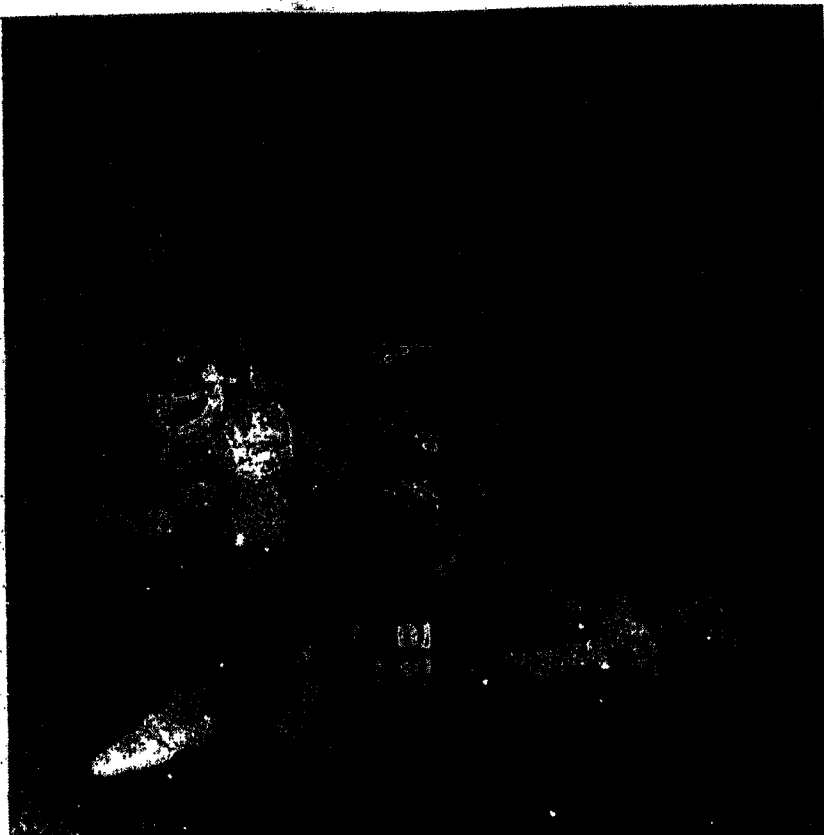

The Hawks took a 28-6 lead with them off the field at the half.

Following a scoreless third quarter, both teams mustered to add to their score in the final quarter.

After a long series of downs, Favre took the ball in for the final Hancock North Central score from the 16-yard line, giving the Hawks a 32-6 lead.

Ausmer ran the ball in from eight yards out for the second and final Pirate score with just 30 seconds remaining.

Final score was 32-12.

Ninth grade Hawks sink Pirates 42-12

Hancock North Central's ninth grade Hawks sank Deep South conference opponent Pass Christian 42-12 Thursday.

According to Hancock North Central Coach Joe Shaw, Pass Christian took an early lead by scoring on the first play of the game with a 75-yard run by Derrick Benoit.

The Pirates missed a two-point conversion attempt, giving themselves a six-point lead.

Hancock came back later in the first quarter to score on an eight-yard run by halfback Guy "Tater" Graham.

The Hawks also missed on a two-point conversion attempt and the score was tied.

Also in the first quarter, Hancock scored on an 80-yard run by halfback Terrance Goff to bring the score to 12-6.

The Hawks added two points on a pass from quarterback Jeff Moran to Heath Necaise, leaving the score 14-6 at the end of the first quarter.

In second quarter action, Graham scored on a five-yard run followed by a missed conversion attempt.

Pass came back to score on a 55-yard pass play from Shawn Bainsford to split end Alerton Foxworth.

The pirates missed the conversion with 20-12 posted on the scoreboard.

Later in the second quarter, Goff scored on a 70-yard run.

Graham then added a two-point conversion on a running play and the score stood at 28-12 going into the second half.

In the third quarter, Graham scored again from seven yards out.

Two more points were added on a pass from Moran to Tim Cox, bringing the score to 36-12 at the end of the third quarter.

Early in the third, Hawk fullback Larry Beech scored on a one-yard run.

The Hawks missed the PAT and the final score stood at 42-12.

Shaw credited his defense with two pass interceptions, one by linebacker Ronald "Doodle" Doyle and one by Moran.

Goff was leading rusher for the Hawks with 283 yards. Shaw said he broke the school's ninth grade rushing record, set several years ago by Charles Burton with 232 yards against D'Iberville.

The Hancock North Central Ninth Grade Hawks are now 2-1 for the season, with all three games played so far being conference games.

Pass Christian's record is 1-2.

Next Thursday the Pirates host Stone County while the Hawks travel to St. Stanislaus for a 5:30 p.m. game.

Long Beach hands Rockachaws first loss of season

The visiting Long Beach Bearcats used ball-control offense and an aggressive, hard-hitting defense to contain the previously unbeaten St. Stanislaus Rockachaws 22-0 at Rockachaw stadium Friday night.

Led by the 156 yard rushing effort of tailback Robert Taylor, Long Beach scored twice in the first quarter and once in the second quarter to hold a comfortable 20-0 lead at halftime.

The Rocks offense could only manage 25 rushing yards and 38 passing yards for the game. SSC quarterback Jimmy Dempsey, rushed and chased out of the pocket all evening, could complete only three passes.

At times the Rockachaws seemed to be their worst enemy as Long Beach capitalized on specialty team mistakes made by the Rocks.

In the first quarter, after Long Beach could not move the football on their initial possession, SSC took over on their own 37. But a swarming Long Beach defense would not give up a first down and the Rocks had to punt. A bad snap by center Clay Leyser over the head of punter Phil Wittmann rolled back to the 10-yard line where Wittmann picked it up and fought back to his own 14 where the Bearcats took over.

It took Long Beach five plays to get into the Rockachaw endzone. Long Beach quarterback Randy Clunan threw a look-in pass to his tight end Shane Stall for the score. Darren Dean's extra point split the uprights, and with only six minutes gone in the game Long Beach held a 7-0 advantage.

Once again the Rocks took possession of the ball but were unable to make a first down. Wittmann's punt rolled all the way down to the Long Beach 28-yard line where the ball was downed by Chris Riley.

Long Beach needed only four plays to score, as Long Beach picked up two first downs on runs by six-foot, 200-pound running back Robert Taylor. With little more than a minute left in the first quarter, Taylor swept right end and with good blocks on the Rockachaw defensive end and cornerback, Taylor outraced the rest of the SSC defense on a 58-yard scoring run. Darren Dean's extra point was again good.

Before the first quarter was over, Long Beach's Taylor would gain 95 of his 156 rushing yards as Long Beach increased its lead to 14-0.

Darren Dean's kickoff was taken by Todd Thrifflay and returned to the SSC 41-yard line. The Rocks picked up four yards on first down and three more on second down before a personal foul against lineman Mike Yarborough brought the ball back to the 32 yard line. Once again the Bearcat defense stiffened and the Rocks had to punt.

Phil Wittmann's punt was downed on the Long Beach 30-yard line. Long Beach could not move the ball on this possession and with fourth and seven from their 33-yard line, Sean Henforth punted.

SSC tailback Todd Thrifflay signaled for a fair catch but dropped the ball. Long Beach fullback Bryan Johnson recovered the ball on the SSC 37-yard line with 7:37 left in the first half.

The Rock defense sacked quarterback Clunan for a one-yard loss, and fullback Johnson gained three up the middle.

Facing a third and eight, Clunan threw a five-yard pass to receiver

Wayne Craig who was tackled by Riley and linebacker George Stills. Tailback Robert Taylor then balled his way down to the Rock 28-yard line on fourth down to pick up a critical Long Beach first down.

As the Rockachaw defense dug in, Long Beach kept the ball on the ground as workhorse Taylor carried the ball four more times down to the five-yard line.

An off-tackle give to Taylor was met by Rockachaw outside linebacker Matt Caldwell who brought Taylor down on the four-yard line.

A third and one situation for the Bearcats meant another give to Taylor who took it in the endzone with 2:57 left in the half.

Darren Dean's extra point was wide left, and the Bearcat lead increased to 20-0.

Thrifflay brought the ensuing kickoff back to his 30-yard line. Dempsey's pass to tight end Arthur Wynne was incomplete on first down, and the Bearcat defense made penetration and sacked Dempsey on second down as time expired in the first half.

St. Stanislaus took the second half kickoff and returned it to their 30-yard line. But once again the Rocks could not crack the tough defensive line of Long Beach. With a third and eight from their 37-yard line, Dempsey's pass to end Arthur Wynne fell incomplete. Wynne was guilty of a personal foul which brought the ball back 15 more yards.

An unsuccessful third down pass attempt by Dempsey forced the Rocks to punt. Wittmann's punt was fielded by Johnson and returned to the Long Beach 43-yard line. Taylor then swept left end and picked up a first down. But Long Beach split end Wayne Craig was guilty of holding and the ball was brought back.

The Rocks defense toughened and Long Beach faced a third and ten. Quarterback Randy Clunan kept the ball on an option around right end and picked up the first down as he raced all the way down to the Rockachaw 32-yard line.

A give to Robert Taylor picked up another first down at the SSC 17-yard line and once again the Bearcats were on the move.

However the drive stalled as a clip brought the ball back to the 32-yard line. A screen to Taylor on first down picked up 18 yards as Taylor eluded four Rock tacklers. David Zanca finally brought Taylor down on the 13-yard line.

A quarterback keep by Clunan gained five, and a dive by running back Darren Kies advanced the ball down to the Rock five-yard line, first and goal.

At this point the Rockachaw defense, on the field most of the evening, held Long Beach scoreless on four consecutive dives by Taylor and Kies. A fourth down QB sneak by Clunan from the one-yard line was unsuccessful and the Rocks took over on their own one-foot line.

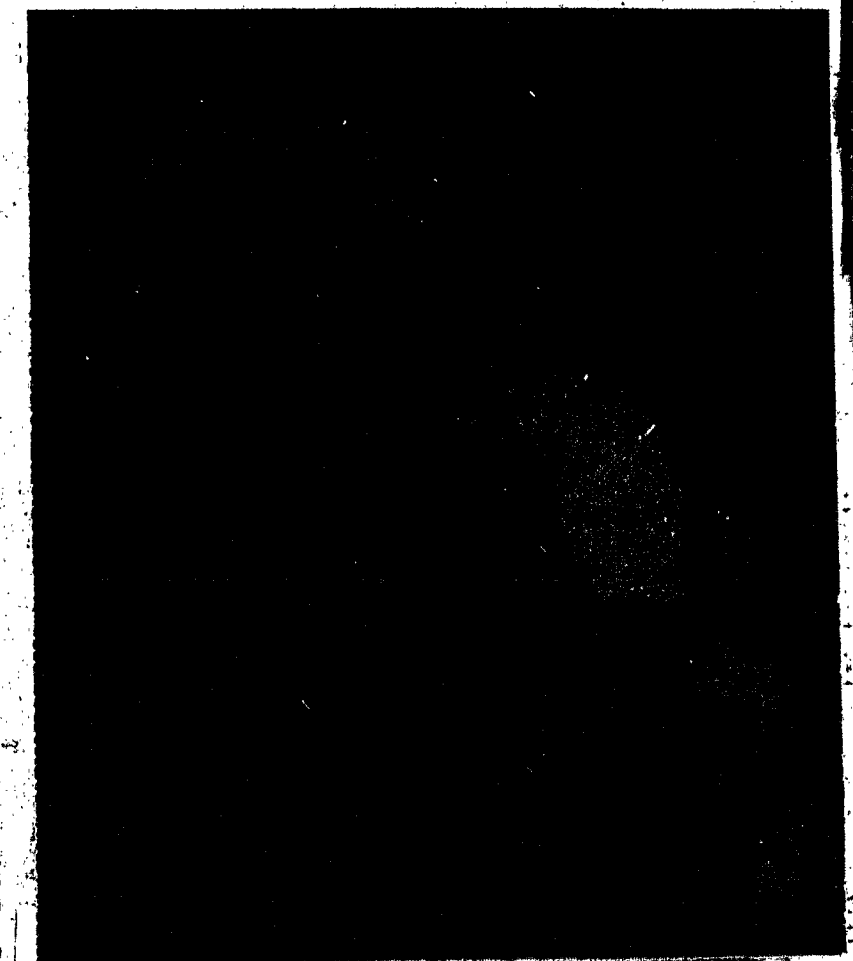

With a little over two minutes left in the third quarter, any Rockachaw hopes of getting back into the ballgame were dashed when QB Jimmy Dempsey and fullback Matt Caldwell missed an exchange and Dempsey had to fall on the ball in the endzone for a safety.

As the Bearcat lead increased to 22-0 with a minute left in the third quarter, Eric Doyle kicked off from his own 20-yard line. Long Beach reserve running back Charlie Marshall took the kickoff and was tackled by Chris Riley.

Christmas card sale to benefit restoration

BY JOE PILET

Almost one-third of the funds necessary to complete a climate control project for the Washington, D.C. Continental Hall and Administration Building have been raised, according to Mrs. Walter Huguey King, president general of the National Society Daughters of the American Revolution.

The property houses artifacts and books, a collection of priceless American treasures and an outstanding museum and genealogical library and is owned by the NSDAR.

Mrs. King said, "We cannot stand idly by while the irreplaceable treasures of our past disintegrate due to lack of temperature and humidity control."

"We have the responsibility of guarding it. Wise and generous women of the past 95 years have provided a priceless genealogical library that contains more than 70,000 volumes as well as a priceless collection of American furnishings and paintings that rival any in the nation."

To raise funds a special set of holiday greeting cards have been commissioned. The cards, priced at $10 per box and a tax deductible contribution, are expected to raise substantial funds toward the project.

Mrs. Philip Davenport, regent of the Friendship Oak Chapter NSDAR, said: "Last spring beautiful cards were featured for this restoration project, and the proceeds from the sale of the cards raised substantial funds."

It is our plan to promote the Christmas collection."

It all started with $8,277.41

Eighty-six years ago, on October 9, 1899, 19 local businessmen sat down to organize a bank. They saw a need for a bank that would be willing to put faith in the individual.

One to work side by side with local families to help the young Gulf Coast grow.

So, with one small frame building and deposits of $8,277.41, they founded Hancock Bank. And through the years, as your banking needs have grown, we've grown right along with you.

We're Hancock Bank. The only bank you'll ever need.

It all started with $8,277.41

Eighty-six years ago, on October 9, 1899, 19 local businessmen sat down to organize a bank. They saw a need for a bank that would be willing to put faith in the individual.

One to work side by side with local families to help the young Gulf Coast grow.

So, with one small frame building and deposits of $8,277.41, they founded Hancock Bank. And through the years, as your banking needs have grown, we've grown right along with you.

We're Hancock Bank. The only bank you'll ever need.

Adult studies set for fall

Nearly a dozen college degree programs for adults, featuring at least 80 evening courses, will be offered this fall by the University of Southern Mississippi's Division of Lifelong Learning.

Dr. Donna Garvey, who heads up the division's new Adult Studies Program, said another nine degree programs are on the drawing board for implementation next spring.

"We've got about 80 classes available under the Adult Studies Program this fall, all scheduled at night and a few on weekends," she noted. "This is just on campus. It doesn't include the extension classes (scheduled at Laurel and the USM/Pike County Center at Southwest Mississippi Junior College.)"

Garvey said the Hattiesburg-campus Adult Studies Program would offer undergraduate degree programs in American studies, communications, manufacturing technology, general business, mathematics and library science. Master's degree programs will be offered in history.

Degree programs being finalized for implementation during the spring semester include computer science, medical technology, sociology, social work, anthropology, paralegal study, community health education, English and pre-nursing.

The new Adult Studies Program officially went into effect July 1 when the old Division of Continuing Education became the new Division of Lifelong Learning, headed by Dean Gene Tinnon.

The new program is geared to adults who wish to earn a college degree, prepare for a different or second career, or otherwise improve the quality of their lives.

Insurances cover home care, local AARP members told

The Hancock County Chapter No. 1114 American Association of Retired Persons met Sept. 16 at the American Legion Post No. 77 on Coleman Ave. in Waveland at 10 a.m. with President Jos. Servat presiding.

After the opening ceremonies, the president asked Dr. Esther Oeschmann, program chairman, to introduce the guest speaker, Dr. Jané Chandler, director of Marketing and Public Relations of Unicare Home Health of Mississippi. She introduced George Crain, state director, who spoke on the Overview of Health Care Campaign.

Home Health services are available to persons covered by Medicare, Medicaid, Champus, VA, some private insurance companies, or the patient can pay the agency directly.

Mr. Servat received a letter from Mr. Cyril Brickfield, AARP executive director from Washington, D.C., asking our chapter to sponsor the Colorectal Cancer Education program. Mr. Servat appointed Dr. Esther Oeschmann chairman, with Mrs. Julia Loup, Mrs. Marian Kilbride and Mrs. Edith Chevis on the committee.

Dr. Esther Oeschmann has written to Washington, D.C. for the free tests for all members as well as others who are interested. Hope to have them by next meeting.

Mr. Jos. Servat, president; Mr. Les Galkin, first vice president; Dr. Esther Oeschmann, second vice president and program chairman; and Mr. Gordon Stone, immediate past president, attended an AARP/NRTA Health Care Campaign Forum at the Peddler's Inn in Hattiesburg Sept. 12.

Maxine P. Payne, assistant state director, opened the meeting. Then she introduced George Crain, state director, who spoke on the Overview of Health Care Campaign.

Mae Owens Health Advocacy services coordinator explained the HAS program. She said the most important thing to remember for a healthy body is to listen to your body, because when there is something wrong, your body lets you know.

Mr. Clyde Richardson, state coordinator, explained the Health Care Campaign. Mr. Charlie Johnson, State Legislative chairman, explained five important points to consider.

1. In February the AARP National Legislative Council identified as a matter of primary concern: a continuing large federal deficits and b. escalating health care costs 15 percent of elderly's income. Opinion surveys of leaders and members show health costs, Social Security benefits and federal deficits as issues of great concern.

2. About State retirement: The 1985 Legislature increased monthly checks by 3 percent; increased the minimum monthly check by 50 percent; made it possible for the 13th check to be 4 percent times number of years retired times the annual benefit. For 1986 the state committee approved supporting legislation to develop a health insurance program through the state retirement system.

3. The State Legislative committee will seek legislation to permit trained Ombudsmen to have access to long-term care residents.

4. The State Legislative committee lists as a priority the promotion of health care cost containment measures through legislation and other means.

5. The State Committee is monitoring two legislative study committees. The House has a committee studying the problem of indigent care and the Senate has a committee looking at the possibility of a denturist program for Mississippi.

Bill Parker, AARP, spoke on program resources and ideas for chapter and unit health care campaign.

Mr. A. A. Alexander, president of NRTA gave a wrap-up of questions and answers.

Mrs. Mae Owens, health advocacy services coordinator, said Mark Twain once was asked what it would take for an older person to stay healthy. His answer was, "Eat what you don't want, drink what you don't like, do what you'd 'druther' not."

The goals for health advocacy services for 1985 are:

1. To reduce the rate of cost escalation in health care.
2. To preserve and strengthen the Medicare and Medicaid programs and to assure the availability of affordable health care for all citizens.

3. To encourage the development of such alternative health delivery systems as health maintenance organizations, home health and ambulatory care services that can be more responsive to consumer needs and more efficient in the delivery of current institutional system.

4. To encourage Americans of all ages to adopt and practice more healthful lifestyles.

5. To provide information to consumers on health care costs and options.

Visually impaired learn to manage

Many of us take the everyday task of managing our money for granted, but for the blind, it is one more barrier to overcome.

To help blind people learn to manage their money, a counselor for the visually impaired and a money management specialist teamed up to produce large print and braille materials on money management. The world of better money management literally opened up for blind and visually-impaired people.

"I learned how much money I spent unnecessarily and that I can do without until I can afford it. I learned to budget for my needs and to not let my wants overpower me," said Vera Poole, a middle-aged woman who has been blind for more than a year. "I've never had to manage like this before, I keep track of everything to see where my money goes."

Poole was able to purchase a mobile home because of what she learned about money management and living on her own at Addie McBryde Rehabilitation Center. She is now living on her own in Newton.

"I now understand why my mother was so upset about how I spent my money," said Tim Anderson, a 19-year-old who is visually-impaired. Anderson is also a client at Addie McBryde.

When he was a college student, Anderson had trouble managing money. Although he is not in college now, Anderson's goal is to study food management so he can have his own restaurant business someday.

He is now working in Hazlehurst at Royal Maid, a private, non-profit company that evaluates how visually-impaired and blind people function in a work setting. Royal Maid also teaches job-seeking skills. The staff at Addie McBryde is pleased with the success of the material. At least 50 clients have used the material so far with 20 of them having studied it in-depth, according to Vickie Bond, a personal management instructor.

Mississippi Cooperative Extension Service Specialist Bonita Bridges developed the materials after having presented money-management workshops for blind and visually-impaired people at Addie McBryde for six years.

"There were no visuals or handouts that were usable and the counselors were concerned," Bridges said.

In late 1984, Bridges was asked to speak to the Jackson Metropolitan Lions Club about the need for money management materials for the visually impaired. The Metro Lions Club has 23 members, all of whom are visually impaired. Twenty of the members are blind.

Two of the members work at Addie McBryde. Billy Mayfield is supervisor of instructional services and Edd Alexander is a communications instructor. It was not difficult to convince the Metro Lions Club that developing money management materials for the visually impaired and blind would be a worthwhile project.

Bond served as coordinator for the joint project between the Extension Service, the Metro Lions Club and the rehabilitation center.

The material, "You and the World of Money," teaches the differences between needs and wants, to set aside money for emergencies and to keep track of expenses. The Addie McBryde Rehabilitation Center reproduced the material into large print and braille editions.

The Lions Club underwrote expenses for the project, such as producing a cassette tape of the material. The project was the club's service project.

Providing services to the visually-impaired and blind has been a longtime service project of Lions clubs nationwide. Lions Clubs sponsor an eye bank and corneal transplants and provide eyeglasses to low-income people.

The money-management material was finished in February and has been in use since then.

"We didn't realize how successful the project would be. We got into something not really realizing how much it would mean. It's ironic that not many people know about it, except those who are involved in it," Mayfield said.

Educational material available for teachers

Mississippi history teachers may now enhance their students' knowledge of agriculture by using information provided by the Mississippi Agriculture and Forestry Museum and National Agricultural Aviation Museum.

The new pre-visit packet can be beneficial in preparing a Mississippi history class as well as other school groups for a tour of the facilities.

Two packets were specially designed, one for the fifth grade and one for the ninth grade. The information in them gives background about the history of agriculture, forestry and agricultural aviation in Mississippi. It also tells about the different means of transportation, from water, to railroad, to highway.

Teachers who would like a copy of the educational pre-visit packet should contact Dixie Bassie, educational coordinator, Mississippi Agriculture and Forestry Museum and National Agricultural Aviation Museum, P.O. Box 1609, Jackson, MS 39215-1609. Telephone 601/354-6113.

Insurances cover home care, local AARP members told

American Heart Association
WE'RE FIGHTING FOR YOUR LIFE

The Hancock County Chapter No. 1114 American Association of Retired Persons met Sept. 16 at the American Legion Post No. 77 on Coleman Ave. in Waveland at 10 a.m. with President Jos. Servat presiding.

After the opening ceremonies, the president asked Dr. Esther Oschmann, program chairman, to introduce the guest speaker, Dr. Jane Chandler, director of Marketing and Public Relations of Unicare Home Health of Mississippi. She announced the Bay St. Louis office is 641 Dunbar Ave., Vicki Raley, RN, supervisor.

Home Health services are available to persons covered by Medicare, Medicaid, Champus, VA, some private insurance companies, or the patient can pay the agency directly.

Mr. Servat received a letter from Mr. Cyril Brickfield, AARP executive director from Washington, D.C., asking our chapter to sponsor the Colorectal Cancer Education program. Mr. Servat appointed Dr. Esther Oschmann chairman, with Mrs. Julia Loup, Mrs. Marian Kilbride and Mrs. Edith Chevis on the committee.

Dr. Esther Oschmann has written to Washington, D.C. for the free tests for all members as well as others who are interested. Hope to have them by next meeting.

Mr. Jos. Servat, president; Mr. Les Galloway, first vice president; Dr. Esther Oschmann, second vice president and program chairman; and Mr. Gordon Stone, immediate past president, attended an AARP/NRTA Health Care Campaign Forum at the Peddlers Inn in Hattiesburg Sept. 12.

Maxine P. Payne, assistant state director, opened the meeting. Then she introduced George Crain, state director, who spoke on the Overview of Health Care Campaign.

Mae Owens Health Advocacy services coordinator explained the HAS program. She said the most important thing to remember for a healthy body is to listen to your body, because when there is something wrong, your body lets you know.

Mr. Clyde Richardson, state coordinator, explained the Health Care Campaign. Mr. Charlie Johnson, State Legislative chairman, explained five important points to consider.

1. In February the AARP National Legislative Council identified as a matter of primary concern: a. continuing large federal deficits and b. escalating health care costs 15 percent of elderly's income. Opinion surveys of leaders and members show health costs, Social Security benefits and federal deficits as issues of great concern.

2. About State retirement: The 1985 Legislature increased monthly checks by 3 percent; increased the minimum monthly check by 50 percent; made it possible for the 13th check to be 4 percent times number of years retired times the annual benefit. For 1986 the state committee approved supporting legislation to develop a health insurance program through the state retirement system.

3. The State Legislative committee will seek legislation to permit trained Ombudsmen to have access to long-term care residents.

4. The State Legislative committee lists as a priority the promotion of health care cost containment measures through legislation and other means.

5. The State Committee is monitoring two legislative study committees. The House has a committee studying the problem of indigent care and the Senate has a committee looking at the possibility of a denturist program for Mississippi.

Bill Parker, AAR, spoke on program resources and ideas for chapter and unit health care campaign.

Mr. A. A. Alexander, president of NRTA gave a wrap-up of questions and answers.

Mrs. Mae Owens, health advocacy services coordinator, said Mark Twain once was asked what it would take for an older person to stay healthy. His answer was, "Eat what you don't want; drink what you don't like; do what you'd 'druther' not."

The goals for health advocacy services for 1985 are:

1. To reduce the rate of cost escalation in health care.

2. To preserve and strengthen the Medicare and Medicaid programs and to assure the availability of affordable health care for all citizens.

3. To encourage the development of such alternative health delivery systems as health maintenance organizations, home health and ambulatory care services that can be more responsive to consumer needs and more efficient in the delivery of current institutional system.

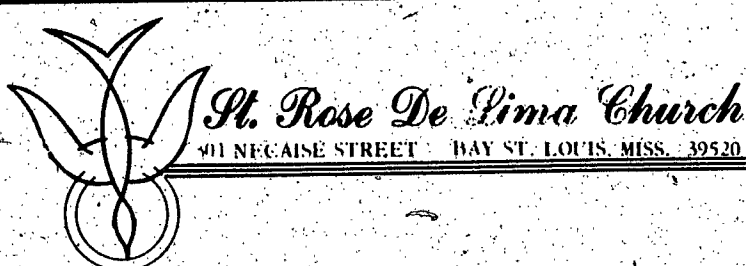

4. To encourage Americans of all ages to adopt and practice more healthful lifestyles.

5. To provide information to consumers on health care costs and options.

To interpret this into simple language, these goals mean that we will eat properly, exercise prudently, sleep adequately, and be informed as to what is available at a cost one can afford, and we should visit a doctor only when the need arises.
